-
-

•

-
-

A classification study is the evaluation of a position or group of positions and the nature and kind of work assigned and expected to be performed by the position. A classification study is ___ a study of how well incumbents do their jobs. An incumbent's performance on the job is ___ considered in a study.